COILED TUBING TECHNOLOGY 2013

Special supplement to World Oil August 2013 issue

Coiled tubing operations have emerged as one of the major technologies covering a wide spectrum of well requirements for both onshore completion and remediation work to the most technically challenging offshore well projects.

WORLD OIL'S AUGUST 2013 ISSUE WILL INCLUDE A SPECIAL SUPPLEMENT ON COILED TUBING ADVANCES:

Technical articles written by operating companies presenting case histories on topics such as:

- Horizontal and high-angle CT applications
- Offshore and subsea well intervention
- CT-based fracturing and stimulation
- Refinements in planning and executing CT operations

WHAT'S NEW IN COILED TUBING:

This is an opportunity for equipment manufacturers and service providers to submit their new technology announcements for CT equipment, tools and servicing capabilities.

- New CT equipment
- Sensing and logging improvements
- Advances in tools and materials

RATES: 2013 World Oil rates apply. Rates are commissionable at 15% of gross billing.

ISSUANCE & CLOSING: Published with the August 2013 issue of World Oil. Closing date for advertising space reservations and advertising materials is July 1, 2013.
